

Global Health Issues in Ethiopia: A Nursing Perspective

Student Name

Department of Nursing, University of Windsor

NURS 3400: Global Health

Dr. Professor Name

March 4, 2020

Commented [KH2]: Use 1" (2.54cm) margins all the way around your paper. Most word processors default to this setting. If you are submitted a thesis or dissertation to be bound, you may be required to increase the margin on the left.

Commented [KH3]: Use the same font throughout the paper (and your page numbers). You may use a serif font (12-point Times New Roman, 11-point Georgia) or sans-serif (11-point Calibri, 11-point Arial). Footnotes in footers may use the default setting on your word processor (generally single line spacing in a smaller font).

Commented [KH4]: Title is in the top half of the title page, bolded, centred, and in title case (major words capitalized)

Commented [KH5]: Leave one double-line space between the title and student name

Commented [KH6]: Include departmental and university affiliation

Commented [KH7]: Include the course code and course name

Commented [KH8]: Include the instructor's name

Commented [KH9]: Include the due date

Abstract

Generally speaking, your abstract should be no longer than 250 words, but be sure to check the requirements of your assignment. Publications and conferences may have different requirements as well. Your abstract should appear as either a paragraph, but you do not need to indent the first line.

Commented [KH10]: If an abstract is required by your assignment, include the title 'Abstract' in bold, centred, and on a new page following the title page. If no abstract is required, skip ahead to the first page of the paper.

Keywords: keyword, keyword, keyword, keyword

Commented [KH11]: Student papers do not require keywords unless the instructor requests them. The word 'Keywords' should appear one line below the abstract, indented, and italicized. Separate keywords with commas. Do not capitalize keywords that are not proper nouns. Do not use any punctuation after the final keyword.

Global Health Issues in Ethiopia: A Nursing Perspective

The body text of your paper should be left-aligned, not fully justified. Paragraphs should be indented by 0.5 inches. The body of the paper should be in the same font as the title page, headers, and headings, and the whole paper should be double spaced. You can organize your paper as you see fit using headings, as below. Parenthetical citations are used to cite sources (American Psychological Association, 2019). You may use italics to introduce key terms.

Method

Theoretical Models

Theoretical Model I

Text following a level 3 header starts below the header, is left-aligned, and indented.

History of Theoretical Model. Text following a level 4 header starts on the same line as the header and continues as a regular paragraph.

Use of Theory by Theorist I. Text following a level 5 header starts on the same line as the header and continues as a regular paragraph.

Commented [KH12]: Title also appears at the top of the first page of the paper, centred, bolded, and in title case.

Commented [KH13]: You do not need a heading to identify your introduction.

Commented [KH14]: Level 1 headings are centred, title case, and bolded

Commented [KH15]: Level 2 headings are left-aligned, title case, and bolded

Commented [KH16]: Level 3 headings are left-aligned, title case, bolded, and italicized

Commented [KH17]: Level 4 headings are indented, bold, title case, and end with a period. Text begins on the same line following the period.

Commented [KH18]: Level 5 headings are indented, bold, title case, italicized, and end with a period. Text begins on the same line following the period.

Appendix A

Description of Appendix Content

Only include an appendix if you require one to further your reader's understanding.

Appendices only need to be labelled with letters (A, B, C) if you have more than one appendix.

If you only have one appendix, label it 'Appendix.' If your appendix is text, format it as standard paragraphs, double-spaced and indented in the same way as the rest of the paper. An appendix can also consist of tables, figures, or text in combination with tables and figures.

Commented [KH32]: If you require an appendix, centre and bold the title 'Appendix,' and attach a letter (A, B, C, etc.) if you have more than one appendix. Include a title that describes the appendix's content below, also centred and bolded.
