Title of Paper Capitalized in Title Case

The first paragraph starts immediately below the title. MLA papers should be formatted in Times New Roman 12-point font. Each paragraph should be tabbed in. MLA does not have a particular required style for section headings but does require consistency (all level one headings should be formatted the same way, for example). For example, you could format headings as follows:

Heading Level One

Heading Level Two

Heading Level Three

Another option for headings if only one level is required is to number them as follows:

1. First Section

2. Second Section

3. Third Section

If unsure of how to format headings for your particular course or discipline, check with your instructor.

Commented [KH1]: First page includes student name, professor's name, course name/code, and due date at the left margin with double line spacing

Commented [KH2]: Use 1-inch margins on all sides of your paper

Commented [KH4]: Title of paper is centred and title case (all major words capitalized), but not bolded, italicized, or underlined

Commented [KH5]: Start a new page for the Works Cited list (which lists all works cited in the text)

Commented [KH6]: Alphabetize the Works Cited list by author name

Commented [KH7]: MLA does not require but recommends included an Accessed date for web sources

Commented [KH8]: For two authors, list the first author last name first, and then include the second author first name first

Commented [KH9]: Do not include the http:// part of web links

Commented [KH10]: For 2+ works by the same author, replace the author's name with three dashes and a period for the second and subsequent entries

Commented [KH11]: For 3+ authors, use the first author's name and replace the rest with et al.
